STUDENT HANDBOOK

2017 - 2018

Welcome Hornets!

My name is Megan McReynolds, and I am the Student Body President of Emporia State University. I am incredibly honored to be working for you.

As a university that celebrates a long-standing history of education, it is important that we as students are knowledgeable about our rights and responsibilities both in and out of the classroom. This Handbook is an incredible tool to learn of not only of these privileges, but also of the many resources available to you. If you would like any additional information on the contents of this handbook, or would like to express any other idea or concern related to Emporia State University, I am available. Feel free to contact me at asgpres@emporia.edu, office 155B in the Center for Student Involvement, or by phone at (620) 341-5481. This university thrives on actively engaged students. As you go about your year, I hope you are able to give back to Emporia State University for the Common Good.

Yours in Service,

Megan McReynolds, Student Body President

Emporia State University Hornets,

You are part of the proud Hornet Nation that values Excellence, Respect, Responsibility and Service. My name is Lynn Hobson, Dean of Students, and I am excited you have made the decision to take full advantage of the excellent educational opportunities available at Emporia State University found in the formal classroom and by participating in out-of-classroom organizations, programs, and leadership opportunities!

First-Year Students – during the next few months you will be transitioning into this new journey in your lives, socially, intellectually, emotionally, spiritually, and psychologically. We are here to be supportive and encouraging for you as a new student.
Upper Class Students – as you return to campus and continue on your path toward graduation be proud of your accomplishments thus far and keep in mind that you are leading the way as mentors, friends, assistants, co-workers, and fellow learners to first year students.

As students at Emporia State University you have rights and responsibilities. One of the main resources available to help you become familiar with those right and responsibilities is this Handbook. At any point when you need further information, a person to listen to you or caring advice to help you on your journey, the Dean of Student's Office is here for you. You may contact me at any time by email at lhobson@emporia.edu, by phone, 341-5269, or by stopping by the office, room 260 on the second floor of the Memorial Union.

Our campus enjoys tremendous community support, so venture out, make connections, and truly become part of the Emporia State University and Emporia, Kansas community. Together we can make a difference.

Go Hornets!
